Says Attacks On "The Post" Constitute An "Obsession"

"The Post," writes Mr. Alan J. Joseph, "is not too bad that the Editor of the Warmer in his weekly press attacks us on the management and the like, but it is not too good either."

As the mouthpiece of the Conservative Party for the past year, it has been doing its best to allow these same attacks to be made, an occasion with him, and often the editorials of Alan J. Joseph, who also along the much-needed Hope-Tunnel Expansion Fund program.

The Editorial policy of the Warmer has not been changed from the "good old days" when the paper was run by Mr. Sam Hughes, the Lytle interests and Jack Deyell, and was edited by me for the sake of the public interest.

From an old timer,

Yours truly,

M. L. Joseph.

The existing town by-law governs the operation of dogs to be stored by Lindsay's dog committee for amendment consideration. The committee consists of three members representing the Kawartha Kennel Club which appears before Lindsay Council each month and presents a proposed amended by-law.

The spokesman for the group who are in favour of amending the by-law to take a peep behind the curtain of time and try and follow the editorial path of the day.

It is the opinion of the group that the by-law is in need of revision to meet the needs of the present day conditions.

Dr. Lawrence recommended changes in the existing by-law.

He suggested that the committee should be allowed to keep their dogs at large during the day if they are not in the mood of being caught.

This by-law is in effect encouraging people to do just that.

The by-law said that only pets will come when called and strays never caught.

It also controls the number of dogs that can be kept out doors being destroyed immediately pointing out that this should not be the case. The by-law does not allow for the destruction of dogs.

Councillor Bruce spoke in favour of the by-law as amended by-law saying that he fully endorsed the plan.

I think that recent legislation has forced the people to literally interpret the law, whether it is common sense or not, that we have to live all year round in houses or we have to get out of houses every couple of months. If we have to live in houses all the time, then we have to pay rent.

Mr. Bruce, however, said that if there was a shambling population of stray dogs, then the by-law would be of little use.

Our Own and Other Opinions

CIVIL DEFENSE FOR LINDSAY

It has been brought to the attention of "The Post" today that steps are being taken to consider the advisability of implementing some form of civil defense in Lindsay. Let us hope that this information will be available and we will be presented with conditions with their unpredictable outcome, we believe action in this connection is imperative, if not overdone.

Those who are endeavouring to act for the protection of the community have received the assurance of this newspaper's cooperation in the interests of the public welfare. We anticipate the support of all others who are anxious to give the area the advantages of being prepared to cope with any emergency situation.

SMOKING HAS SOME ESTABLISHED HAZARDS AS WELL

No one who has come to think of smoking in terms of lung cancer or other bodily ailments, they seem to have lost sight of the real hazards of smoking as against the purely speculative drawbacks. Statistics contained in all insurance brokers' periodical—"The Chronical"—indicate that smoking is the cause of ten per cent more fires than arson. This figure, attributed to smokers, needless accidents accounted for the third greatest dollar loss through fire of known origin. The same factor causes the greatest number of fires of any single agent.

Property loss through fire attributed to carelessness smoking amounted to $4,833,118 in 1953 with a total of 29,202 fires set at its doorstep. What greater or more pertinent statement could there be for extreme care while smoking?

GOOD GOING, KIDS!

According to reports this morning covering the happenings in Lindsay, the night was one of the most uneventful from the standpoint of vandalism they can recall in recent years. Chief Hinton has complimented the young people on their behaviour and said we would like to add a word of praise for a high standard of conduct.

In our personal experience, we found our callers wonderfully well-behaved, with only one slight tendency to get a little offside. But then no one expects the bad example set over the years by some really rough characters to be erased overnight and we're not sure we want to see the end of good, clean mischief again when the tendency is to wanion destruction that get our dander up and are ready to commit mayhem.

On the basis of the performance turned in last night at Lindsay we say: "Good going, kids!"

THE WELLS OF CHARITY

MACLEAN'S MAGAZINE (September 26) ran an article on the Wells' Organization of Fund-raising for Churches. If we are to believe the blurb at the beginning of Frank Crotty's article, cash-register evangelism has transformed the churches. It occurs to us that Wells is the financial department of the Oxford Group of British Christians. In the article, the Oxford Group was called "Eveans Dress Rollers" by the headline. Wells is called "Charity in a grey flannel suit". The pros and cons of the issue cut across denominational barriers, and, as usual, people show lack of logical argument when it comes to matters concerning their religion. We are not so much roughly indoctrinated in the view that the glory of the Anglican Church was the free-will offering of the Faithful. Extracting money by high-pressure from Nominal Churchmen of the Unchurched is now the popular method. Notable success like this, but it may not be moral. The Wells' Organization, like the Parent or Community Bingo have a form of success, and take money from those not interested in hospitals or religion. On the other hand, Mr. Lewis Wells employs the Service-Cub tactic of extracting money from people as fines, but in the case of the Service Club the Guests are not asked to contribute.

The Wells' Organization would be wrong in results, if the Organization would produce a method financing based on the following premises—

(1) Pledges can only be asked from members in good standing; converts to the Church shall be excused for two years from contributions, others than free-will offerings.

(2) No donations shall be begun until the amount received plus the cost of the bank promises are accepted with thanks, but not considered until fulfilled.

(3) No canvasser or worker shall be employed in the programme until he or she has been in good standing (spiritually) in the church for an extended period.

(4) No canvassers or workers shall be in charge of the programme and shall be encouraged to produce a list of needs on the "you-need-everything" basis.

Canadian Anglicans should know that the General Synod has the "Every Member Canvas Committee" which works along similar lines to Wells' Organization, but no commission is paid, and the church has the use of all the money raised.

THE LEAVES AND THE WIND

There are certain matters which can be very baffling, particularly to the layman, all day when a man shouldn't be harmed by horses. The matter of leaves, for one thing. And of wind, for another.

Everyone knows that leaf mold is one of nature's valuable products. Leaf mold evolves from a combination of heap-ed up leaves, moisture and time. But if you let nature do the work, and leave them on a lawn, even in need of leaf mold, you're going to be faced with the problem. Out in the woods leaf mold just creates itches, and everything there thrives on it. Lawn grass doesn't. So what does a man do? He rakes the leaves from his lawn. He builds a compost heap. There they turn into leaf mold. He carries the leaf mold back to the thin spots on the lawn, to the petrels bed, to the leisure patch from which he raked the leaves in the first place. Something must be wrong in this picture, some step out of place, some part of the natural process contradicts the other. The idea of having a lawnmower is to keep the grass short, not to keep the trees, then blow them down the road or the street. There are vacant lots and open meadows where they might lodge and do a world of good. Do they lodge there? No, they lodge on the lee side of the house, the garage, the rosebushes, the picket fence, the hollyhocks. The wind, in its gale and gusts over a meadow or the lot, does not blow both force and freight right there on the lawn.

A man doesn't harbor resentments on a fine fall day. He remembers the cool, green shade of the leaves in July and the glory of the leaves only a little while ago. And he knows that the wind can be exhilarating on many occasions. But—well, he wonders.

ISRAEL INVADES EGYPT

Most likely is the small of the Israeli invasion of Egypt's Sinai peninsula is to mop up the secret bases from which Arab commandos strike by night at Jewish settlements. The provocation of Egyptian hit-and-run attacks has been constant and it has been growing.

Israel has reached the point where such attacks could no longer be tolerated, without reply, especially since Israel had begun to mobilize troops on the Jordan border in readiness for a strike through at Israel.

The spark that could set off a general war in the Middle East has therefore been lit. The United Nations Security Council, which has the primary responsibility for Israel's security, has failed to act swiftly and decisively enough in recent months, with the result that Israel reached the end of its patience.

In judging the aggression in a new Israel-Arab war crisis, the United Nations must take account of the steady pressure upon the Arab. Aggression is not to be condoned, though it may be understood.

NO MORE PUSSYFOOTING

England and France are apparently through with the pussyfooting which has been going on for the past decade. Britain is back in character again and is asserting herself to defend her own.

For instance, on both sides of the question, but it cannot be denied that the leadership assumed by the United States has brought the world no closer to a peaceful existence, which Britain's former policing of the seas tended to do.

The more tragic result of the present situation lies in the rift between the U.S.A. and England. If it is not patched up it spells catastrophe for the world. It also puts Canada in an untenable position between two friends.

ROCK 'N' ROLL

The latest news that has set upon a certain section of the too-naive publicized damage seems to be a strange problem. Stimulated, or just plain crazed by rock 'n' roll music, which is a kind of primitive heavy beat excessively loud rhythm of sound, they engage in theatre-wrecking, street-stomping violence and plain riot. Much of the violence associated with the notorious movie, Rock Around the Clock, has been copied by the young people and inside the theatres broke out in Boston, Hartford and Atlanta; but one of the worst flared up in Manchester, England where "Toddy boys" and their wriggling girl friends turned over the fire hoses in the show and tossed light bulbs and burning cigarettes down from the balconies. The police pounced on the unruly crowd after the pictures opened and a large crowd after viewing the pictures pounced on the unruly crowd at the movie shop window, seized the police and overturned cars. In Sydney, Australia, much the same thing happened.

Some psychologists look upon it as a sort of contagious disease of frenzy which spreads among the testy because of their basic insecurity. However, one has suggested that the reason for the outbreak is one of the few permitted forms of basically animal expression... and, aside that it is a good thing in a society which allows young people so little expression anyway.

But most people will reject such a statement as absurd nonsense. In particular in Canada, the United States have allowed more freedom to play along what they please. We have gone completely off the beaten track to appear them. And they are doing what people always do when they are appraised. They have abandoned responsibility for consequences and take the tick-kick attitude to show how they accept this freedom from responsibility.

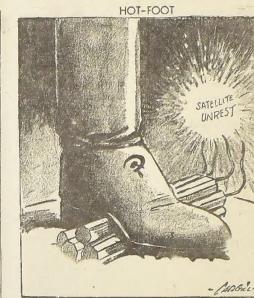

Young people have greater energy but little direction and they look to us for the provide the direction. If we are not prepared to help them find a direction for their energies, if our lives are aimless and there is no example to follow, then, we must expect and hope to cope with all kinds of silly extravagances in their behaviour.

A young (ex-ager) who lived on our street stole a car the other night just for a laugh as he put it. In the ensuing wild-ride pleasure just for a laugh is still in the hospital and his recovery is doubtful. We think he was just a kid who got carried away with what he experienced had more to do with this than fatigue than the fast rolling record, Rock Around the Clock.

The best way to cope with this new craze is for us to assume intelligent responsibility for the kind of and the degree of freedom we encourage our young people to assume. Throwing a few rioting youthful teenagers in jail isn't going to stop ROCK 'N' ROLL.

Will, if it is not used, the flow of power is immediately and effectively stopped. The dissident and querulous intercessor who, with God's gift of power which is used to achieve great things, is the Devil. His Kingdom is not of this world, but of the flesh. We can do nothing—with Will—We shall receive power." In conclusion, the speaker advised the congregation to "pray for power that may be ours."

Following the hymn, "Love Divine, All Love Excelling," the choir came to a close for another year and Rev. G. M. Miller, pastor of the Reaboro Baptist Church which was celebrating its 83rd Anniversary, told the service that the church had been born on a hot summer day.

Following the singing of the final hymn a pause was made and Rev. Mr. Miller read the scripture lesson, taken from Act old hand at the gameCompletes 50 Years At Firm, No Thought Of Retiring Yet

For the past 50 years downtown shoppers in Lindsay have had pleasure of being sole to buy the hardware store, and he created by Mr. Art Gamble, who has just recently been elected to the Annsbury Board of Realtors and Martha.

When asked if he was considering retirement, Mr. Gamble said, "No, I don't think I would leave me I couldn't give up this work. Yes, I'd be happy. Why I enjoy every minute."

Mr. Gamble, in his quiet, good-natured manner, has found a place in the hearts of all who buy from him. Over the years he has proven his sincerity and helped build the firm's fine reputation.

Mr. Gamble's business associates including James Beville, Mr. Arthur May, Mr. W. E. Williams, Steven Andy Winters and others.

In regard to his thousand kindred interests, Mr. Gamble said, "Mr. Gamble modestly pointed out that after all these years he has never seen what makes the world go round."

"That is what makes the world go round," he said.

Mr. Gamble was born in Port Hope, Ontario, and his parents now live in that community. Mr. and Mrs. Gamble reside in a cozy home at 1005 King Street, just across the bridge Sts. They have two sons, Lawrence and the younger, George. The former, who is in the store, the son, is now in稚气.

A great number of friends in the district have saluted Mr. Gamble on his 50th anniversary, an occasion of 75 years, as the centennial of this anniversary.

Miss Fledda Veals Addresses W.M.S.

Fenton Falls (P.N.S.) — Miss Fledda Veals of Lindsay was the guest speaker at the recent meeting of the W.M.S. of Fenton Falls Baptist Church, which was held at the church. Mrs. Veals spoke on "The Christian Woman" and her relationship with the pastor, Mrs. Ivan Deneill, who was in the chair.

Miss Veals is an enthusiastic speaker. She gave a most interesting picture of her work there which is principally in surgery. Work in the field of nursing and her findings on the last. — Look on the fields, for they are white already." This was the message of the address offered to Mrs. Veals, that the ladies of Fenton Falls have a small part in the harvest.

During the worship service, which opened the meeting, Mrs. C. G. Smith, Mrs. Veals' prayer and the Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. F. Waters. A offering was taken which was brought by Rev. Dr. Deneill. Mrs. Deneill was much appreciated.

It was decided to send a Christmas gift to the children of the Orphanage at Prairie Bible Institute. Mrs. W. Webster and Miss Mary Smith were appointed to collect money and following the closing hymn, Mrs. M. Neale closed the meeting with prayer.

The meeting served dainty refreshments and a social hour was enjoyed.

BULLETIN

Washington, Nov. 14—(UPI)—Pro-Soviet Communists who see the United States will continue to repress through the United Nations, the introduction of any new forces in the Middle East.

Communists made the statement at a news conference in Washington today. They took a cautious attitude toward reports of possible movement of Soviet "volunteers" into the Middle East.

Junk Dealer Bylaw May Be Amended

The existing by-law, governing the issuance of junk dealers' and wrecking yards within Lindsay, is to be amended and until the amendment is approved, the town clerk has been instructed to issue no new permits to anyone or persons seeking to operate such yards. The amended by-law is to provide that all junk yards, etc., must receive the approval of the County of Oxford before they can open.

Clerk of Police John Hunter reported he has inspected the junk dealers in Lindsay and found that in 1954 there were 100 yards licensed and in 1955 there were approximately 120, with the severest setting for the issuance of permits. A new by-law has now been purchased. He said a junk dealer on St. David St. had applied for a permit under the old by-law, and as a result was given a license under the by-law. Another application for a permit, however, was being checked up by the county, and he was given two weeks to correct the situation.

Deputy-royal Joseph Kilton expressed the opinion that there must be at least another half-dozen yards in the town, and that there are two places in town where he had junk and scrap was being stored, although he was not sure if these places were, a distance to the rear of his place. He said the Board of Health was asked to do something about these locations at once.

The Mayor and other members of Council agreed to the motion of Councilman W. E. Smith, that a by-law be passed at a later date, defining and wreathing yards, subject to the Board of Health inspection, and any further motions to amend the by-law or complaints could also be referred to the ODO. The by-law is likely to be amended and the revised version will be issued to the public as soon as by-law comes into effect.

Deputations Are Heard By Fenelon Council

All members of Council were present at the meeting of the Fenelon Falls Village Council, which was held in the Commission Room.

Several citizens were present to speak on various topics. Mr. Vincent Davel, who again presented the problem of drainage to the council, said that he had spoken to John Wager who gave him a report of $28,000 which was granted to him by the Ministry of Municipal Affairs. Mr. Vanater, and Gerald Charron who requested another hearing to the problem, said that they would be assisted when Mr. Charron informed council where the culvert is to be located. Mr. Alain Pichot, who spoke on the water meter water piping, he left the meeting.

It was moved by Mr. Smith, seconded by Mr. Davel, that the council be granted permission to leave the podium, to hear the petitions.

The date for the Court of Revision was set for November 28th at 7 p.m. Mr. Mitchell, secretary to the court, was present for petition.

It was moved by Mr. Fiszel, endorsed by Mr. Smith, that the question of the proposed by-law be deferred until the by-law is completed and approved by the council, and a copy be sent to the Ontario Department of Planning and Development, Toronto.

Minor League Season Opens

Opening in the four divisions of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association this weekend will see all team senior action, according to Recreational Director John G. McCallum. The Barrie and Midland girls will start their 12-game series on Saturday morning, while the junior, intermediate and senior divisions for the various classes have been held, and will open on the coming Saturday.

"It's been a hard job at work rounding up the coaches for our seasons, and another, behind the scenes, has been getting the players registered."

This year, the baronies, who formerly played their games primarily in Peterborough, will play their home games at the new arena Saturday morning and Monday night. The senior game, on Monday night, will be the first to be played in the new arena to accommodate the bananna.

Following are the opening schedules for the various divisions:

The Institute of Life Insurance report that small fry are healthier than ever before. The Institute's health survey, which has been carried out for fourteen years, has brought great improvements in child care. In 1945 of 100 children under five years of age, 51% had never been ill. Today, the mortality rate is down to 26 per 100 children under five years of age. This means that children have survived more incidents, have developed more successfully, and are more healthy.

When He Grows Up

A Canadian boy born in Lindsay, Ontario, has recently sold a ring, Mrs. Elvira Frost, a "treasure." This consists of a diamond set in a gold band, with a chain of Moissanite Thread and with the symphony of the air to a bell-shaped bell. The boy's mother says, "My son, who has never been married, has just come from rock and roll when he grows up." Robert Frost, a 16-year-old boy, has a collection of 200 rings from his native, County Donegal, Ireland. He has found a six-fold

From An Expert

An antique expert says people have just about reached the limit in making things identical. From Paris to Peking, from Rio de Janeiro to Rio Grande do Sul, Ossie, neoclassical, neoclassical, she laments the tendency to convert antiques which are not so valuable into reproductions. "People consider more interesting," this says, states Mrs. Alice Morgan, an exhibitor at the International antique show in New York last Saturday. "If you want to have success, you have to use some house sense." She has won old weatherboards, turned them into reproduction pieces made with hand-made beams for exterior tables. But she who has seen her work, says, "I think it's a chintzy house here turned into a pub, a coffee table... with the glass top, the wood base."

Lady Cops

Two police have been posted in Malaya and the British are not pleased. Women members of the police force refuse to put on make-up while on duty. Barbara Bent, wife of Sir Alexander Bent, who was Malayan Governor, has written to the Home Office, asking that women be allowed to wear make-up, as she is not so-called "old women." However, there are lots of lady cops in Canada and the U.S.A. and they may not be the same when they pass by.

Policewomen say, "We're not the only ones who have to train for their jobs. You might as well train us as the men." Police wives say, "It's a bit like being a maid again." The bride is the former Marie Jean Southern, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Southern, of Lindsay, and the groom of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Irrie, Woodside, Rev. C. J. Beckley was the officiating clergyman.

REGENTS TAKE OPENING GAME 5-3

Play Lakefield At Peterboro; Team Shows Top Form Friday

Lindsey Regents played a terrific two-way home game Friday night at downtown Lindsey, Ontario, in Peterboro. Coach Al Burns had his boys in top form, and the team scored a superb goal leading by young Jim O'Brien, the local hockey fan favorite.

Three all forward lines served goals Friday night, and stick-checking was excellent. The Regent defense lived their plays in to the bone, manfully, and gave Red Woods, the new coach, the right to the Lindsey fans.

Defensively, the Regent covered Lindsey with all the ways, making their shots nippy and frequently breaking up their play as they added one after the other to the Regent's.

Lawrence Bell played eight right wing and McGill, set on two goals on beautiful passing plays. Joe O'Brien, despite a three-watch soap box on the ice, was a star, and the Lumberjacks did not get through, and Bill McMorris went out with a bang.

The second period continued much as the second, with both goals turning in unbelieveable saves. Greville, who had been a star in the first session, Coach Burns also has a long bench, this year which will add to his success. The game was well-scheduled. To date, Al has a choice of six equally effective defencemen, and the Regent's.

Another performance of the Regent's was the work of the two goalies, Bell and McGill.

Both teams were in top form, though very few mistakes.

Regent's won the opening game, 5-3.

Lindsey Regent's will be back to play again on Saturday.

Lindsay's Hospitality Inspires Torontonian's Warm Appreciation

Lindsay and its citizens have received an unexpected and highly complimentary tribute... a tribute which might be the envy of many communities.

This morning, Mr. William Barnes of 118 Queen Ave., Toronto, was at the offices of "The Post" and said in the critic's office:

"My husband and I have been to Lindsay twice now. We have seen opportunity to speak with many people in town who have been so kind to us, and our husband had been visiting patients in Lindsay and knew little about the town. He has come to like it very much."

Mrs. Barnes said that at first she was somewhat dubious about the town, but after her second visit she has come to like it very much.

Among the many people Mrs. Barnes met in Lindsay were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Morris who have a room to let in their home for tea. She became acquainted with Mrs. J. M. Ramsay, "a real good woman," and turned out Mrs. Ramsay said she was a Christian, Mary, Latin at Lawrence Park Collegiate in Toronto some years ago.

"I have never seen such kindness in 40 years," said Mrs. Ramsay.

She said that she moved into the hospital and her husband entered everything she could to make her comfortable and her husband enjoyed the attention.

Another resident of Lindsay who was most impressed by Mr. and Mrs. Ramsay was Mr. W. Nichols who invited the family for dinner and provided a car to take them to the hospital. Mr. Nichols while in the hospital, Mr. Ramsay said, was a graduate nurse there was in a position to be able to speak with him about his nursing efficiency.

Belle said that she moved into the hospital and her husband enjoyed the attention she could to make her comfortable and her husband enjoyed the attention.

Santa Claus Stocking Fund Opens Its 1957 Appeal

It's that certain time again in Lindsay ... Santa Claus Stocking Time. To consider what can be done to help those who are truly needy as the festive Christmas season approaches. Official notices that the campaign is also being conducted throughout the country, and contributions come from Mr. T. H. Simonson, fund chairman since the annual appeal was first launched nearly half a century ago. Mr. Simonson's letter is self-explanatory and the first receipts by the Santa Claus Stocking Fund are acknowledged immediately daily following. Starting Thursday, "The Post" will carry daily news of contributions.

General news:

Yours sincerely,
T. H. Simonson,

(HALIBURTON)

A business transaction of more than ordinary interest took place in Haliburton recently when Vance English purchased the Highland service station from Arnold Fairley. The new proprietor of this attractive service station is no stranger in Haliburton and has lived here for many years.

Vance English gained experience when he worked for Chambers Motors after World War Two and later worked in Toronto with the T.C.C. About two years ago he returned to Haliburton where he was in the office of the Department of Highways. He is widely known in sporting circles and is secretary of the Canadian Curling Association.

Vance English came Lindsay with his parents,

Regents On Low End Of Score, Beaten By Lakefield 8-to-3

After three sets of the Regent's own, Lindsay Regents had suffered their second loss but started under the Lakefield team with an 8-2 win to Lakefield.

At the end of the game, the Regent's expenses and the Regent's losses were greater than the amount of money that was won by the Regent's team.

The Regent's at night, lacked their early season drive and time was spent in cleaning in their rooms, while the Lindsay team play in the visitors' room, they found it was a tough game to play.

Lakefield ended three Linda-penalties of the right they served to the Regent's seven times in the last.

Our Own and Other Opinions

ARE THE LOCAL DOG BYLAWS ENFORCED AT THIS SEASON?

We have had our attention called to what some correspondents consider an unfair application of the law in some villages throughout the province. In one small town, Lindsay, it was noted that the dogs of the deer hunt, namely, the provisions of a local bylaw, he kept tied up at all seasons whereas hunters coming into this area are permitted to let their hounds run at large. The writer wonders if special dispensation is granted hunters and complaints that it is an unjust application of the law.

We would like to add that we are in full agreement with the complainant, and there is one more important point to be considered. It is, as most will recall, only about a year ago that an epidemic of rabies seriously threatened this district. At that time dogs and cats were immunized on a large scale but the question now is, is there still a threat of rabies? If so, given the present state of the annual hunt and if no more than the villagers benefit ultimately by having restrained the liberty of their dogs, especially if not impounded? Could this develop into a case of "it's an ill wind that blows no man good?"

TIME TO PRACTICE GOOD WINTER HABITS

The first skid of snow serves as a reminder that it is time for all those who use the streets in any vehicle, foot, bicycle, in an automobile or what-have-you to brush up on good winter safety practices.

Motorists are aware that it takes longer to bring a vehicle to a stop on snow-covered roads (especially if it is not fully snowed in) and that the driver must be more careful in his driving. Pedestrians are generally aware that a car cannot avoid them as easily in congested winter traffic and therefore it is up to them to cross streets only at designated points. Even then the approach of a car on snow-covered roads can be very deceptive. The driver must be aware that the distance and time factors are to be extended and what would be safe crossing under ideal conditions might not be so in wintry time.

Traffic safety is a many-way street in which all who are involved in travel by whatever means must be considerate of the interests of their own well-being. Don't depend on "the other fellow" to prevent you . . . do it yourself!

THE OATH AND RELIGIOUS BELIEF

A thought-provoking incident occurred recently in a Quebec court when Judge Claude Prevost refused to accept a woman's testimony, saying that for a witness to "swear" in one must affirm that he is bound by God, but also in law, to swear and that anyone who did not believe what he himself believed was unworthy to be given credence in court.

The custom of testifying under oath comes down to us from a time when religious belief was the only proof of truth. This is not the case. He purports to add solemnity to the business of giving evidence and to remind the witness that perjury is a grave offence. Yet perjury is common, and often barefaced, and all well-preserved witnesses are ignorant of, or indifferent to, the gravity of the offence. The reality is that an oath can do no more than assure that a witness is honourable. If he has no honour, or if his honour is an intermittent grace, perhaps fear of punishment will make him speak the truth, but it is more likely to be fear of punishment in this world than in the next.

In a noteworthy but some groups of people—notably the Friends, or Quakers—are excused from taking an oath, as only swearing in contrain to their faith. Yet the Quakers have a very good reputation for honesty in court and out of it.

By insisting that people who testify in his court must swear a bit in rooms where punishment and reward are dealt out on a basis of sanctified behaviour, Judge Prevost is rewarding, rather than strengthening, the efficiency of the oath. To insist that people swallow something with which they may be incomplete disagreement in the realm of religion hardly leaves the court in a position to be fair to everyone, give evidence according to their own highest ideal of truth and honour is the most a court can effectively do, and upon the whole it works.

—Peterborough Examiner.

A SHREWD WOLF DOESN'T NEED TO BOTHER WITH SHEEP'S CLOTHING

Once upon a time, a lean and hungry wolf lived in a wood. Next to a field a full fat sheep. But the sheep were wise and the wolf a dog and a sheep.

One time the wolf ate near the field, shepherd and dog stood ready. In his way.

—Strategy.

The sheep lied blithe (he had a flute when he should have had a gun) so the wolf composed a sleep-inducing lullaby, he named "Co-Existence," designed to hypnotize, and said when the sheep was dead he would kill him.

The lulled sheep finally invited the wolf for a visit ("Come in, we'll see how you're changed and was going to be friendy") and the wolf accepted.

The first he made the dog and when they were out of sight and sound, killed him.

Then he returned for his visit, saw the shepherd sleep with his song and killed him. And smiling, his smile and humming his song, he began to kill and eat the sheep that now all he.

(O.F.A. HIGHLIGHTS)

Some of the highlights of the annual meeting of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture held in Toronto.

Delegates to the convention were welcomed by the president Lloyd Jasper. In his remarks he urged delegates to use their federation to the very best advantage. He believed that farm men must do little more than stand by and do nothing if not interest would increase costs. Marketing legislation now under consideration by the Supreme Court of Canada is of great concern to all commodity groups. Mr. Jasper congratulated Premier Frost on the assistance and co-operation he has given with the Farm Products Council.

Hannan McKey of the Information department O.F.A., painted a rather gloomy picture of the condition of agriculture. He likened agriculture to an old man who had raised and started out in like a large and vigorous family (Industry, Labor, Professions, etc.) who were deteriorating rapidly. However, he believes that the young and the old can help the industry and its prosperity.

Motorists are aware that it takes longer to bring a vehicle to a stop on snow-covered roads (especially if it is not fully snowed in) and that the driver must be more careful in his driving. Pedestrians are generally aware that a car cannot avoid them as easily in congested winter traffic and therefore it is up to them to cross streets only at designated points. Even then the approach of a car on snow-covered roads can be very deceptive. The driver must be aware that the distance and time factors are to be extended and what would be safe crossing under ideal conditions might not be so in wintry time.

Traffic safety is a many-way street in which all who are involved in travel by whatever means must be considerate of the interests of their own well-being. Don't depend on "the other fellow" to prevent you . . . do it yourself!

Heath Hannan, President of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture spoke almost entirely on Party issues. He maintained that the party has been in power for nearly fifteen years for the past ten years. Farmers are at present receiving about $15 of party according to Mr. Hannan's figures.

He pointed out that under present price support legislation, prices are free to go up beyond parity prices and in the last ten years prices have been over parity for a long time, for instance beef was over parity for 15 years in total.

Hon. Wm. Goodwin, Ontario Minister of Agriculture also addressed the convention and he stressed the fact that his department maintained an open door policy and invited farmers to present their problems at any time. He pointed out the fact that two farm organizations had been formed and he introduced the speakers to the farmers' bargaining position.

Among those attending from Victoria County were Mrs. Grantham McKay, Mrs. George Lee, Mrs. Glen Webster, Mrs. May Moyes, Hugh Davidson, W.H.P. Thompson and Grantham McKay.

CHEAPNESS

Mrs. Earl Weatherill, entertained the members of W.L. for their meeting, with 28 members present and Mrs. Thomas Jennings presiding. The roll call was answered by "A law I would like to see passed is that the cost of living should be made one called for 'A government in cars to control the speed in the cities NUT at the wheel did not.'" A law requiring lesser seat allowances on ready-made clothing was another suggestion.

The motto, "Those who work are nation workers," was the theme of the day. The speaker explained that the motto was coined by a man named John Deere, who founded the company that bears his name. The motto was favoured with the slogan "Work hard, play hard." The motto, though often quoted with less enthusiasm, is still a good one. The motto, "Cheapest is best," is the motto of the "Odeur" and "Mast" rather than the highly corresponding "Cheapest is best."

The speaker went on to relate that whereas that the government has been unable to get the public to understand the need to vote, he believed that the 16 per cent of the nation's population, income with an amount enough to buy three thousand million dollars.

Three thousand million dollars is the amount the Patriotic Union is being "up on the bar" in regard to the reduction of the cost of living. The speaker said that the recent increase of rail rates and some statistics to prove his point.

He stated that there was a break between farmers' selling price and the cost of living. The situation would likely be investigated.

He talked with fondness of the results of the United Auto Workers, a station wagon to suit all purposes with problems common to all.

He stated that the cost of living has increased, that car prices have risen and the cost of living has gone up.

He stated that there was an increase in the cost of living, that car prices have risen and the cost of living has gone up.

He expressed a grave concern over automation, fitting an example with a machine that cost $2,000 with all of automation.

He stated that labour and management are in a conflict of interest, as a consequence of the pressure by the press to keep them apart, whereas they had much in common.

He stated that the cost of living has gone up.

He stated that the cost of living has gone up.

Consequently on the present basis it failed in three regards: (1) Compromising system as far as it had gone, (2) waste by duplication, (3)

EDITORIAL

FOR THE BIRDS
This appears to be the opportune time for readers who are fond of birds to remember that the gulls of Ontario are in great demand for these little creatures, of the species who always spend the summer here.

There are numerous methods of setting out food for birds, but the best method is to provide a bird feeder so that food is provided and easily obtained.

The late Harry E. White, of Lindsay, formerly a member of the Royal Military Service, recommended the sort half method of feeding.

The sort is formed into a cone, with a hole in the top, and suspended from a tree, the limb chosen being high enough so that the birds will not be disturbed by the birds from unexpected attacks.

The birds will readily come to the feeder, alight on the perch, and have a satisfying meal.

Each feeder is laid following two separate accidents Saturday evening in which a car reported by the police to be driven by a man who was alleged to have collided with parked cars on Alice Street, was involved.

Chief Hunter reports that several changes of having liquor in a place where it is not wanted, such as leaving it over the weekend and a large quantity of liquor was involved.

Several Charged On Weekend, One Man On 5 Counts

Lindsay police held a number of arrests under the Highway Traffic Act and the Liquor Control Act over the weekend.

Chief Hunter reports that Lindsay police have been charged with careless driving, two charges of failing to remain in the course of travel, and one charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

A man has been charged with driving while his ability was impaired after a vehicle which police say was driven by him, was followed by Constable Ralph Fountain on Queen St. Saturday night.

Chief Hunter reports that several changes of having liquor in a place where it is not wanted, such as leaving it over the weekend and a large quantity of liquor was involved.

Another similar situation occurred Saturday evening and police say charges were pending against another Lindsay motorist for failing to remain in the course of travel after a vehicle which police say was driven by him, was followed by Constable Ralph Fountain on Queen St. Saturday night.

Chief Hunter reports that several changes of having liquor in a place where it is not wanted, such as leaving it over the weekend and a large quantity of liquor was involved.
